1934.

Dear Sir,

Since Sir Landon Ronald wrote to you and made a definite appointment for you to come along and see him at the above address on Tuesday morning next, he has been confined to his bed with an attack of Nasal Pharyngitis, and is only just recovering.

This has upset all his plans, and I am afraid it will be impossible for him to see you on Tuesday next as he had hoped to do.

Sir Landon asks me to express his regret at having to postpone your visit, but he will make another appointment for you to come along as soon as he possibly can.

Trusting that you will understand his position,

Yours faithfully,

Dorothy Aubrey

Private Secretary.
