Dear Henri:

As noted before, your traveling plans are terribly ill-timed as far as our being together is concerned because I will be out of the City from tomorrow morning until the end of March.

I am in Phoenix and on the West Coast during the entire period that you will be in New York.

I have noted your letter to Mr. Hurok. Unfortunately, he is in Europe and will not be back I think until early in March. However, I believe you should speak to Walter Prude of his office while you are in the City.

Vera is not traveling with me as she is home preparing for the birth of our next child the end of May.

I hope all goes well with your trip and that we shall meet again before too long.

My affectionate greetings, as always,

Sincerely,

Isaac Stern
