April 25/29. 9 P.M.

My dear Tennie:-

It is impossible for me to raise the sum I borrowed from you. All I can say is if you will let me have your address in Europe I will send you an American Express order very shortly.

I regret disappointing you tremendously. You probably will not believe me when I say this. But I feel very badly about this. I must simply ask you to believe me.

I am sorry to put you to any inconvenience and will try some day to make up for the aggravation I have caused you. You do not deserve it.

I do not know what else I can say to you, but I know you will immediately want to know why I could not say this to you on the phone today, but believe me when I say I have just arrived at my home
after a vain effort to get together
this 150.<sup>00</sup> for you.

With best wishes for a happier
meeting on your return.

Sincerely
Shaw
