Dear Henri -

I have a feeling that you are now 85, and that it is the vibrations from the celebration that have recalled this to my mind. Anyway, many congratulations, belated or anticipatory as the exact case may be!

I wonder from time to time how the new book is coming. The modern publishing world is, to me, an unfriendly, impersonal, and unresponsive place. Despite that, I hope that something will have transpired, because it is obviously hard work to keep <sup>writing</sup> working when no publisher is "interested." And because I think your book would be interesting. Of course, my judgment is clouded by our relationship & by the fact that I, emotionally at least, would love to edit one ~~text~~ more book & would love you to be it. Maybe I'm like the horse that pulls the Queen's carriage: enthusiastic & unaware the world has passed him bye.

Dan & I have decided that we are going to try to spend some of the winter in San Francisco as we did last year. Finding an apartment seems a last minute deal, so we will probably not know until after the New Year. I'm not going "to fight it": it will happen or it won't. You, I suspect, may be back in Arizona, which at least is closer than China.

Give my love to Emmy + pls keep me informed. If there's news of me to read, I'll be glad to take a look.

Have a great Thanksgiving.

Best always,

Dan Rubin

17 November 1991.
