Dear Henri:

Your pound of Flesch has arrived, and I'm surprised that the envelope wasn't singed. Wow! They don't make teachers like that any more. (Whether this is cause for regret or relief, I'm not sure.) In any event, our archives have been handsomely enriched, and we are most grateful to you for sending this material, including the charming postcard from Hofmann.

It was wonderful being with you and Emmy. We had a marvelous time, and, aside from our personal enjoyment, we are tremendously grateful to you for permitting us to record your fascinating and enlightening reminiscences.

With all my thanks and, as always, most affectionate greetings from us both.

Sincerely yours,

GARY GRAFFMAN
