Dear Henri Temianka:

We have been out of town but found your letter on our return and are so saddened by news of Emmy's illness and we hasten to wish her a speedy recovery. We especially pray that the doctors are able to allay the pain.

We too were disappointed at the necessity of postponing your kind invitation to dine with you and look forward to being able to do so real soon.

Again, our best wishes for Emmy's speedy recovery.

Yours warmly,
