Welcome

Dear Friends:

As we conclude our 42nd season, I look back with great pride at the accomplishments of this past year. In the ten concerts that the Chapman Chamber Orchestra has performed, we

- Performed works by Ravel, Golijov, Beethoven, Rachmaninov, Schubert, Brahms & Mozart
- Were broadcast live throughout Southern California on KOCE
- Joined forces with our peers in the vocal area to perform our fifth annual concert at St. John’s Lutheran as well as mount a full production with Opera Chapman
- Held community concerts at the Nixon Presidential Library and at University Synagogue in Irvine

This afternoon we proudly present the winner of the 2012 Chapman Concerto Competition (led by instrumental conducting major Johannes Lohner, ’13) in what I hope will become a new tradition of showcasing our Conservatory talent.

Please mark your calendars now for May 15, 2014, when the Chapman Chamber Orchestra and University Choirs join forces with the Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra on the stage of the Renée & Henry Segerstom Concert Hall to present Beethoven’s monumental Ninth Symphony with world-renowned soloists. This concert will be presented by the Philharmonic Society of Orange County in celebration of its 60th anniversary and in honor of outgoing president Dean Corey.

Finally, I would like to dedicate this afternoon’s performance to our colleague Dr. Shaun Naidoo whose sudden passing a year ago is still keenly felt.

Musically yours,

Daniel Alfred Wachs

About the Artists

DANIEL ALFRED WACHS, Conductor
Director of Instrumental Studies, Chapman University Conservatory of Music
Music Director, Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra

Conductor Daniel Alfred Wachs emerged on the international scene following his debut with the Mozartreut Orchestra of Salzburg, leading a world première by Toshio Hosokawa at the Grosses Pferdehau. The Austrian press praised "Engaging, rhythmically inspired, precise in its execution, the "Mambo" was equal to a performance by Gustavo Dudamel and the Simón Bolívar Youth Orchestra!" Wachs has been entrusted with preparing orchestras from Valery Gergiev to Vladimir Spivakov, and has served as Assistant Conductor to Osmo Vänskä at the Minnesota Orchestra and at the National Orchestra of France under Kurt Masur. He has served as cover conductor for the Houston Symphony and the Rotterdam Philharmonic.

Wachs has guest conducted Orange County's Pacific Symphony, the Auckland Philharmonia, the National Orchestra (as part of the National Conducting Institute), the Sarasota Orchestra, the Fort Worth Symphony, Sinfonia Gulf Coast, the Montery Symphony, the Spartanburg Philharmonic, and is a frequent guest conductor at New York City Ballet at Lincoln Center. Wachs has also served as assistant conductor at the Cincinnati Opera and for the French première of Bernstein's Candide at the Théâtre du Châtelet, a co-production with La Scala and the English National Opera, directed by Robert Carsen.

A pianist as well as a conductor, Wachs was auditioned by Zubin Mehta at the age of eight and was a student of the late Enrique Barenboim. He subsequently pursued studies at the Zürich Academy as well as The Curtis Institute of Music and The Juilliard School. He has participated at various festivals at Aspen, Tanglewood and Verbier.

Committed to the cause of education, Wachs is one of the few conductors of his generation successfully balancing the busy demands of an academic and professional career. He leads the Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra and is Music Director of the Chapman Chamber Orchestra. Both orchestras were finalists for the 2012 American Prize in Youth Conducting.

JOHANNES LÖHNER, Conductor

Johannes Löhner is a German and American dual citizen from Washington, DC. Fluent in five languages, Johannes began by teaching himself how to play the piano. An Orchestral Conducting major at Chapman University's Hall-Musco Conservatory of Music under Daniel Alfred Wachs, Johannes has led both the Chapman Chamber Orchestra and the New Music Ensemble on various occasions. Johannes has also pursued studies in piano performance with Dr. Grace Fong and in Keyboard Collaborative Arts with Dr. Louise Thomas. Furthermore, Johannes has taken voice lessons with Dr. David Alt.

ARSEN JAMKOTCHIAN, Pianist

Arsen Jamkotchian, a student of Dr. Grace Fong, is a scholarship recipient and piano performance major at the Hall-Musco Conservatory of Music. He began his piano studies at the age of seven with Gayane Mkrtchyan and continued his studies with Lyubov Sorochkina. Arsen won First Place in the South-Western Youth Music Bach-Festival, and Second in the South-Western Youth Music Chopin Festival. He also received the "Komitas" award from the Armenian Allied Arts Piano Competition for the "Most-Promising Pianist." More recently, Arsen won First Place in the 2012 California Association of Professional Musician's Statewide Honors Auditions, First Place in the 2012 CAPMT Sonata Festival, and First Place in the Chapman University Concerto Competition. At Chapman, Arsen was the recipient of the Chapman University "Liberace Award." Along with these, he has performed in various prestigious venues, including the home of the President of Chapman University. In the summer of 2012, he attended the Schlern International Music Festival in "Vols Am Schlenr," Italy, where he worked intensively with world-renowned faculty in private lessons, master classes and performances, and performed himself in various venues throughout northern Italy. Arsen has participated in master classes with the world-renowned Vitaly Margulis and Alexander Tsylyakov, among others, and in the summer of 2013, Arsen will attend the Southern California Piano Institute Festival as well as the 2013 Sergei Babayan International Piano Academy in Cleveland, Ohio.
About Chapman Chamber Orchestra

The Chapman Chamber Orchestra (CCO), under the direction of Daniel Alfred Wachs, is considered among the finest university ensembles on the West Coast. Nobel Peace Prize laureate Eli Wiesel lauded CCO following An Evening of Holocaust Remembrance, an interdisciplinary collaboration with the Rogers Center for Holocaust Studies. In the fall of 2009, a live recording of Milhaud’s La Creation du Monde was selected by the Phillips Collection in Washington, D.C. to accompany its exhibit, “Man Ray, African Art and the Modernist Lens.” In February of 2008, CCO joined forces with Orange County’s Pacific Symphony and University Choirs will join the Orange County Youth Orchestra League Annual Conference for performances of Beethoven’s Ninth Symphony and a West Coast premiere by Mark Anthony Turnage at the Renee & Henry Segerstrom Concert Hall, presented under the auspices of the Philharmonic Society of Orange County. Chapman University Orchestras have received national recognition when presented the coveted ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers) award at the American Symphony Orchestra League Annual Conference for performances of music by American composers and the Chamber Orchestra was a finalist in the 2012 American Prize in Orchestral Performance.

In frequent demand, the orchestras have performed at the Music Educators National, Divisional, State, and Southern Section Conferences. The Chamber Orchestra has been the featured performing ensemble for the CMEA (California Music Educators Association) Southern Section Conference. The Chamber Orchestra has toured extensively on the West Coast of the United States and has performed on international tours in Europe, China, Hong Kong, and Japan. Closer to home, CCO performs an annual series of concerts at the Nixon Presidential Library in Yorba Linda and at St. John’s Lutheran Church in Church, and serves as the orchestra for Opera Chapman.

Piano Concerto No. 1 in F sharp minor

Sergei Rachmaninoff (1873 – 1943)

Sergei Rachmaninoff was born April 1, 1873 in Oneg, Novgorod District, Russia to wealthy amateur pianists. Under his mother’s tutelage, the young Rachmaninoff began his musical training and piano studies at the age of four. After falling into financial failure, his family was forced to sell their country estate and relocate to St. Petersburg, where Rachmaninoff continued studying at the St. Petersburg Conservatory. Rachmaninoff had struggled to maintain his studies after the tragic death of his sister and the separation of his parents, which resulted in his transfer to the Moscow Conservatory. It was in Moscow where his love for composition and music theory flourished, inspiring him to create the initial sketches of his first piano concerto at the age of seventeen. Like many of Rachmaninoff’s early compositions, his Piano Concerto No. 1 clearly exhibits the composer’s admiration for his Russian heritage, especially the music of Tchaikovsky and Rimsky-Korsakov. This influence provides the overarching character for Rachmaninoff’s early compositional endeavors and would provide the basis on which he would develop his own musical style.

After the completion of his first piano concerto, Rachmaninoff set the piece aside to write the second and third concerti, revisiting the first in 1917. Exhibiting the compositionally mature and acclaimed characteristics of his musical style, he perfected the concerto and created a revised edition to be performed in New York on January 18, 1919. However, the successes of Rachmaninoff’s second and third piano concerti overshadowed the re-mastering of the first, delaying its recognition by the musical community. A similar fate was to befall his much-neglected Fourth Concerto.

Although the revised first concerto never surpassed the popularity of its successors, the attractive individual aesthetic and the great level of craftsmanship in its composition has propelled the work into the standard piano repertoire. The concerto breaks away from the melancholy affect that purveys much of Rachmaninoff’s later music, illustrating a hidden extroverted side of the composer. This is most perceived in the first movement, where the brilliant introductory brass fanfare sets the entire work ablaze with energy as the piano’s Liszt-like audacity and technical acrobatics challenge even the most virtuosic of pianists.

Requiem Mass in D minor, K. 626

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (1756 – 1791)

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was born in Salzburg, Austria on January 27, 1756. A child prodigy, he mastered both piano and violin at an early age and composed his first masterpieces by the age of five. Despite his great talents and enormous musical output, Mozart struggled financially throughout his adult life. His unruly spending habits and elaborate lifestyle coupled with his rather difficult personality left him unpopular among patron circles. Mozart’s freelance composition career left him with little money and unable to support himself and his wife. In 1791, Mozart fell ill just as he was commissioned by an anonymous patron to compose a Requiem Mass. Several months later, on December 5, he died with this work only partially completed.

The opening Requiem and Kyrie sections of the Mass are the only movements that Mozart himself fully composed. Lore has it that Mozart had premonitions of his own death even before composing the Requiem, and in doing so, became convinced that he was actually composing his own funeral music. As his health declined, Mozart gave detailed instructions on finishing the Requiem to his pupil, Xaver Süssmayer. After Mozart’s death, the composer’s widow, Constanze, was desperate for the commission and asked Süssmayer to complete the work her late husband had begun. The Requiem was completed and given to the anonymous patron in time. Constanze was to collect the commission.

Although Mozart did not complete the entire Requiem, very little was actually written by Süssmayer. For each movement, Mozart had composed basic outlines of the vocal parts, the bass line, and several isolated passages such as the famous trombone solo. Much of what Süssmayer wrote was formulated from the opening movement, an idea which according to Constanze, Mozart himself had suggested. A copy was made of the entire Requiem before given to the patron and both are in Vienna.

Eventually, it came to light that Mozart’s anonymous patron was Count Franz Georg Walsegg, an amateur musician who indulged in the practice of commissioning works from competent composers and passing them off as his own. Walsegg had lost his wife in February of 1791 and the Requiem he purchased from Mozart, who knew nothing of his intentions, was to be performed in her memory. Instead, the Requiem is now performed in Mozart’s memory.

A hymn praises You, God, in Zion,

Grant them eternal rest, Lord,

Edgar Sholund Memorial Scholarship

The Sholund Music Scholarship Fund was established in memory of Dr. Edgar Roy Sholund, long time and much beloved member of the Chapman College faculty. The Sholund Memorial Scholarship Concert annual proceeds go to the Sholund Fund, which provides scholarships for music students. The first Sholund Scholarship was awarded in 1973.

Edgar Sholund was born on October 23, 1915, and died May 8, 1966, of a heart attack. Dr. Sholund first came to Chapman College, at the age of thirty-one, in 1947 as an Assistant Professor. He taught Theory, Music History, Modal Counterpoint, and Form and Harmonic Analysis. He was promoted to Associate Professor in 1950 and Professor in 1954, and served as Head of the Music Department from 1955 until his death in the spring of 1966, at the age of 50.

Dr. Sholund attended Hastings College in Hastings, Nebraska from 1933-35. He received his A.B. in 1937 and his M.A. in 1939, from Columbia University. Under the guidance of Archibald T. Davison he received his Ph.D. in 1942 from Harvard University. He studied with Paul Henry Lang, Douglas Moore, Seth Bingham, and Alton Jones and also studied at Trinity College of Music in London. He served in the United States Army from 1942-46 as a Chaplain’s Assistant. Prior to his years at Chapman he taught at Columbia University, where his duties included teaching Music Appreciation and an assignment as assistant director of chapel music.

The Bach B-Minor Mass performed by the Music Department on May 22, 1966 was the first Sholund Memorial Scholarship Concert commemorating Dr. Sholund for his fine work, loyalty, and devotion to the College and his friends.

Dr. Sholund is buried in Gothenburg Cemetery, Gothenburg, Dawson County, Nebraska. At the time of his death he left his mother, Mabel Sholund, his sister Carolyn Karlsrud of New York.

In 1962 the Chapman College annual, the CEER, was dedicated to Dr. Sholund. It stated “Under his leadership this has been an outstanding department and one of great importance and value to the total program of the college. His interest in the college, has however, gone far beyond his own department and is evidenced by his work on the Artist Lecture Series, his loyal support of the athletic program and his help with innumerable other campus activities. His sincerity, his sense of humor, his genuine interest in students, his scholarship, and above all his enthusiasm for teaching have made an invaluable contribution to the college and the lives of its students. With gratitude and with respect the 1962 CEER is dedicated to Dr. Edgar Sholund”.

Dr. Sholund held memberships in the American Musicological Society and the Music Executives Association of California and served as chairman of the Southern California Section of both organizations.

At Chapman he served as Chairman of the Athletics Committee, served on the Artist Lecture Series Committee, Honors Council, Convocations Committee, Faculty Council, Library Committee and Standards Committee.

Invest in our next generation of artists.

The College of Performing Arts brings you the most vital and powerful part of our curriculum – live performances of dance, music and theatre. This extraordinary hands-on training for our next generation of artists is possible only through your generosity.

By helping to maintain the resources essential to our curriculum, you allow the College to offer a dynamic learning environment that nurtures the creativity of our students with one-on-one training, ensuring they master their craft. We can produce exceptional performances like what you are about to see only with support from people committed to excellence in performing arts. People just like you.

Help support the College of Performing Arts’ talented young students as they transform into tomorrow’s professional artists.
