Chapman Auditorium, Memorial Hall
Dear Friends:

Welcome to our second performance of The Chapman Orchestra and Chapman Wind Symphony of the 2015-16 season! This concert continues an exciting intradepartmental collaboration and cooperation within the Hall-Musco Conservatory of Music as we are once again delighted to unite the audiences of our two large instrumental ensembles for an evening brimming with melodic and stylistic contrasts, folk music sources from around the world, and compelling historical connections.

In addition to The Chapman Orchestra’s performance of Robert Schumann’s majestic Symphony No. 3, you will hear the Wind Symphony in a follow-up work to David Maslanka’s Liberation from our October program, a colorful and uniquely powerful fanfare entitled Mother Earth; Johann Sebastian Bach’s inimitable Fugue in G minor (“The Little”); Percy Grainger’s beautiful Australian Up-Country Tune; Los Angeles composer Frank Ticheli’s intricate and thrilling Postcard; and a celebration of the upcoming 40th anniversary of one of the cornerstone works for wind ensemble, the virtuosic Variations on a Korean Folk Song of John Barnes Chance, one of the first winners of the American Bandmasters Association Ostwald prize for composition. We hope that you enjoy this evening’s performance featuring the wonderful work of our student musicians!

Musically yours,

About the Artists

DANIEL ALFRED WACHS, conductor
Director of Orchestral Activities, Chapman University Conservatory of Music
Music Director, Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra

Conductor Daniel Alfred Wachs emerged on the international scene following his debut with the Mozarteum Orchestra of Salzburg in November 2010, leading a world première by Toshio Hosokawa at the Grosses Festspielhaus. The Austrian press praised: “Engaging, rhythmically inspired, precise in its execution, the “Mambo” was equal to a performance by Gustavo Dudamel and the Simón Bolívar Youth Orchestra!” Wachs has guest conducted Orange County’s Pacific Symphony, the Auckland Philharmonia, the National Symphony Orchestra (as part of the National Conducting Institute), the Sarasota Orchestra, the Fort Worth Symphony, Sinfonia Gulf Coast, the Oakland East Bay Symphony, the Monterey Symphony, the Spartanburg Philharmonic, and New York City Ballet at Lincoln Center. Wachs has also served as assistant conductor at the Cincinnati Opera and for the French première of Bernstein’s Candide at the Théâtre du Châtelet, a Robert Carsen co-production with La Scala and the English National Opera. He has conducted the West Coast Premiere of Mark-Anthony Turnage’s “Frieze” with the Orange County Youth Symphony, a co-commission with the New York Philharmonic and the National Youth Orchestra of Great Britain. In 2015, Wachs makes his debut on the acclaimed new music series Jacaranda: Music at the Edge in Santa Monica conducting works by Weill and Stravinsky.

A pianist as well as a conductor, Wachs’ performance with the Minnesota Orchestra “proved a revelation, delivering a technically impeccable, emotionally powerful performance of two Mozart piano concertos and a pair of solo works,” raved the St. Paul Pioneer Press. With the encouragement of Zubin Mehta, Wachs began his studies with the late Enrique Barenboim in Tel Aviv before pursuing studies at the Zürich Academy and graduating from The Curtis Institute of Music and The Juilliard School. He has also participated at such festivals as Aspen, Tanglewood and Verbier. Wachs has also been entrusted with preparing orchestras for Valery Gergiev to Vladimir Spivakov, and has served as Assistant Conductor to Osmo Vänskä at the Minnesota Orchestra and at the National Orchestra of France under Kurt Masur. Additionally, he has served as cover conductor for the Houston Symphony and the Rotterdam Philharmonic.

Committed to the cause of music education, Wachs leads the Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra (OCYSO) and is Music Director of The Chapman Orchestra at Chapman University. Of a recent OCYSO performance, The Los Angeles Times states, “The performance was smashing thanks in no small part to the exceptionally well-practiced pre-professionals.” Both the OCYSO and The Chapman Orchestra were finalists for the 2012 American Prize in Orchestral Performance and

Dear Alumni, Parents and Friends:

On behalf of our faculty, staff and students, I want to thank you for joining us for today’s performance. Your support allows us to provide excellent education opportunities for our students, and your presence here is a tangible reminder of the strength of the Chapman family.

In the College of Performing Arts we are passionately dedicated to providing the best possible education for our students in all of our disciplines. Musco Center for the Arts, to be inaugurated in the spring of 2016, is a sign of the University’s commitment to ensure that the arts at Chapman will be second to none. Thanks to Musco Center, our students will continue to be given exceptional opportunities to learn from the best and to experience performance in a state-of-the-art facility. Marybelle and Paul Musco, as well as many other donors who contributed to the project, are strongly dedicated to the educational mission of this exceptional facility and we hope you will return often to experience the performing arts in our new performance home.

Many other factors, however, help us maintain the highest educational standards to benefit our students directly. The Fund for Excellence, in particular, helps us make a huge difference in the experience of all our students throughout the year. Thanks to your support, the Fund has a direct impact on our programs by helping us pay for:

- Production costs for the 100-plus live performances of dance, music, theatre and opera the College produces each year;
- Recruitment of professional visiting artists for master classes and performances on campus;
- Scholarships and travel funds for our student touring ensembles and conferences.

Every single student in the College is touched directly by your generosity. What’s more, the entire Chapman student body and members of our surrounding community benefit from the privileged access to these extraordinary productions every year. Your gift to the Fund has a ripple effect, touching so many lives through the gift of dance, theatre and music.

Please invest generously in the Fund for Excellence and in the College of Performing Arts, as I do, and your gift will be one of the most rewarding experiences you can have when you watch our young artists develop right before your eyes.

Our doors are always open for you, so join us again soon at one of our many performances and events this season!

Sincerely yours,

Giulio M. Ongaro, Dean

CHAPMAN UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF PERFORMING ARTS
OCYSO was the 2012 winner in the youth category. In May 2014, OCYSO was presented by the Philharmonic Society of Orange County to a sold-out Renée & Henry Segerstrom Concert Hall in a performance that included Beethoven’s Ninth Symphony. This concert was selected by both the Orange County Register and Los Angeles Times as top picks during the 2013-2014 season. The Orange County Register exclaimed:

“Wachs guided the ensemble with energy, precision, and a welcome sense of clarity and poise. The performance wasn’t just good by standards for younger performers, but forceful and exuberant by any standard: genuinely inspiring, technically proficient, structurally sound. The combined choruses were a powerhouse.”

Under Wachs’ leadership, The Chapman Orchestra completed a survey of Mahler song cycles with baritone Vladimir Chernov and initiated a partnership with LA Opera’s Domingo-Thornton Young Artist Program. The Chapman Orchestra’s annual Holiday Wassail Concert has also been distributed nationally on PBS. In Orange County, Wachs was selected as one of OC Metro’s 2014 “40 Under 40” most impressive young professionals. Wachs’ expertise and experience in developing and infusing new life into education concerts has led to repeat engagements with the Monterey and Palm Beach Symphonies.

An accomplished opera conductor and collaborative pianist, Wachs has led Albert Herring, Così fan tutte, Le Nozze di Figaro, The Impresario, Suor Angelica, Gianni Schicchi, Amahl and the Night Visitors, acts from La Traviata and Die Fledermaus and the operas La Divina and Signor Deluso by Pasatieri. He has accompanied tenor William Burden in recital and recently made his debut on the LA Philharmonic Chamber Music Series at Walt Disney Concert Hall. ### About The Chapman Wind Symphony

This elite concert ensemble of brass, woodwind, double bass and percussion musicians performs standard masterworks of the repertoire, including recent performances of works by composers Paul Hindemith, Johann Sebastian Bach, Samuel Barber, Boris Kohzevnikov, Bela Bartok, and Percy Grainger, as well as cutting edge, modern works and west coast premieres by composers David Maslanka, Frank Ticheli, Tetsunosuke Kushida, and Yo Goto. Under the baton of award-winning educator, conductor and clinician Christopher Nicholas, these outstanding musicians deliver innovative, progressive, and visionary repertoire concepts and present polished, inspired, and powerful performances that shine!

- Peter Westonhofer
The Chapman Orchestra (TCO), under the direction of Music Director Daniel Alfred Wachs, is considered among the finest university ensembles on the West Coast. Nobel Peace Prize laureate Elie Wiesel lauded TCO following An Evening of Holocaust Remembrance, an interdisciplinary collaboration with Chapman University’s Rogers Center for Holocaust Studies. In May 2014, TCO and Chapman University Choirs joined forces with the Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra and international soloists in a performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony and the West Coast Premiere of Mark Anthony Turnage's Frieze at a sold-out Renée & Henry Segerstrom Concert Hall, presented under the auspices of the Philharmonic Society of Orange County. This concert was elected by the Orange County Register as a “Must See” performance of the 2013-2014 Season and was also selected as a top pick by the Los Angeles Times for spring 2014. Of the performance, the Orange County Register raved, “The performance wasn’t just good by standards for younger performers, but forceful and exuberant by any standard: genuinely inspiring, technically proficient, structurally sound.” TCO kicked off its 2013-14 season in collaboration with Orange County’s Pacific Symphony, presenting an ancillary concert as part of its acclaimed Music Unwound Series. In the fall of 2009, a live recording of Milhaud’s La Creation du Monde was selected by the Phillips Collection in Washington, D.C., to accompany its exhibit, “Man Ray, African Art and the Modernist Lens.” In February of 2008, TCO joined forces with the Pacific Symphony as part of its Eighth American Composers Festival. TCO recently completed a survey of Mahler song cycles with baritone Vladimir Chernov and initiated a partnership with the LA Opera Domingo-Thornton Young Artist Program.

Chapman University Orchestras have received national recognition when presented the coveted ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers) award at the American Symphony Orchestra League Annual Conference for performances of music by American composers and The Chapman Chamber Orchestra was a finalist in the 2012 American Prize in Orchestral Performance.

In frequent demand, the orchestras have performed at the Music Educators National, Divisional, State, and Southern Section Conferences. The Chapman Orchestra has been the featured performing ensemble for the CMEA (California Music Educators Association) Southern Section Conference. The Chapman Orchestra has toured extensively on the West Coast of the United States and has performed on international tours in Europe, China, Hong Kong, and Japan. Closer to home, TCO performs an annual series of concerts at the Nixon Presidential Library in Yorba Linda and St. John’s Lutheran Church in Orange, and serves as the orchestra in residence for Opera Chapman.

North Carolina public schools. Here he produced seven works for school ensembles, including his classic Initiation and Dance. He went on to become a professor at the University of Kentucky after winning the American Bandmasters Association's Ostwald award for his Variations on a Korean Folk Song. Chance was accidentally electrocuted in his backyard in Lexington, Kentucky at age 39, bringing his promising career to an early, tragic end.

While serving in Seoul, Korea as a member of the Eighth United States Army Band, Chance encountered “Arirang,” a traditional folk song sung by native Koreans when experiencing circumstances of national crisis. The Korean word “arirang” means literally rolling hills, and the song relates the story of a man who is forced to leave his significant other, despite her persistent pleas to accompany him. Chance overheard “Arirang” while riding a public bus in Korea and later incorporated it into his work, Variations on a Korean Folk Song.

Variations on a Korean Folk Song is comprised of a theme and five distinct variations. Though the theme is of Eastern origin, Chance maintains a traditional Western tonal function based on triadic harmony and a pentatonic melody. Formal techniques used in the piece are canon, inversion, imitation, augmentation, ostinato, and polymeter. Chance maintains the theme’s Eastern influence by featuring distinct percussive instruments like gong, temple blocks, cymbals, timpani, vibraphone, and triangle. In 1966, Variations on a Korean Folk Song was awarded the American Bandmaster’s Association’s Ostwald Composition Award and the piece remains a standard of band repertoire today.

Symphony No. 3 Op. 97 (“Rhenish”)

Robert Schumann (1810-1856)

A few weeks before Schumann began to write his Third Symphony, the so-called “Rhenish”, early in November 1850, he had arrived in Düsseldorf to take up the post of Music Director. The Rhineland made manifold new impressions on him that were still fresh while he was working on the symphony – his last in date of composition. Thus it has always been said that it was the sight of Cologne Cathedral which gave him the first impulse to write the symphony, while the elevation of Archbishop Geissel to the cardinalate in November 1850 was the inspiration for the fourth movement in particular. At the first performance this movement, with its prominent chorale-like passages for the brass was entitled “In the character of the accompaniment to a solemn ceremony”, but this was modified to “Solemn” (“Feierlich”) when the symphony was printed, as Schumann believed that he should not “bare his heart” to people; it was better if they had “a general

Mother Earth Fanfare (1991)

David Maslanka (b. 1943)

David Maslanka was born in New Bedford, Massachusetts in 1943. He attended the Oberlin College Conservatory where he studied composition with Joseph Wood. He spent a year at the Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria, and did masters and doctoral study in composition at Michigan State University where his principal teacher was H. Owen Reed. Maslanka’s music for winds has become especially well known. Among his more than 130 works are forty pieces for wind ensemble, including seven symphonies, fifteen concertos, a Mass, and many concert pieces. His chamber music includes four wind quintets, five saxophone quartets, and many works for solo instrument and piano. In addition, he has written a variety of orchestral and choral pieces.

David Maslanka’s compositions are published by Maslanka Press, Carl Fischer, Kjos Music, Marimba Productions, and OU Percussion Press. They have been recorded on Albany, Reference Recordings, BIS (Sweden), Naxos, Cambria, CRI, Mark, Novisse, AUR, Cafiua (Japan), Brain Music (Japan), Barking Dog, and Klavier labels. He has served on the faculties of the State University of New York at Geneseo, Sarah Lawrence College, New York University, and Kingsborough Community College of the City University of New York, and since 1990 has been a freelance composer. He now lives in Missoula, Montana. David Maslanka is a member of ASCAP.

Mother Earth was commissioned by band conductor Brian Silvey as a three-minute fanfare piece. Each piece takes on a reason for being all its own, and Mother Earth is no exception. It became an urgent message from Our Mother to treat her more kindly! My reading at the time of writing this music was For a Future to be Possible by the Vietnamese monk and teacher, Thich Nhat Hanh. He believes that the only way forward is to be extremely alive and aware in our present moment, to become awake to the needs of our beloved planet, and to respond to it as a living entity. Music making allows us to come immediately awake. It is an instant connection to the powerful wellspring of our creativity, and opens our minds to the solution of any number of problems, including that of our damaged environment. My little piece does not solve the problem! But it is a living call to the wide awake life, and it continues to be performed by young people around the world.

Postcard was commissioned by my friend, colleague, and former mentor, H. Robert Reynolds, in memory of his mother, Ethel Virginia Curry. He requested that I compose not an elegy commemorating her death, but a short energetic piece celebrating her life. In response, I have composed this brief "postcard" as a musical reflection of her character — vibrant, whimsical, succinct.

It is cast in an ABA’ form. The primary theme, first heard in the flute and clarinet and used in the outer sections, is a palindrome — that is, it sounds the same played forwards or backwards. This theme honors a long-standing tradition in the Reynolds family of giving palindromic names (such as Hannah and Anna) to their children. H. Robert Reynolds’ first name is Hannah. The theme’s symmetry is often broken, sometimes being elongated, other times being abruptly cut off by unexpected events.

The B section is based on a five-note series derived from the name Ethel: E (E natural) T (in the solfeggio system, B flat) H (in the German system, B natural) E (E-flat this time) L (la in the solfeggio system, A natural). The development of this motive can be likened to a journey through a series of constantly changing landscapes.

The A’ section is articulated by the return of the main melody. This section is not identical to the A section, but is close enough in spirit to it to give the effect of a large-scale palindrome surrounding the smaller ones.

Postcard was completed in the summer of 1991. Its first performance was on April 17, 1992, at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor, Michigan, by the University of Michigan Symphony Band conducted by H. Robert Reynolds.

Australian Up-Country Tune (1930)

George Percy Grainger (born 8 July 1882 in Brighton, Victoria, Australia – died 20 February 1961 in White Plains, New York) was an Australian-born composer, pianist and champion of the saxophone and the concert band, who worked under the stage name of Percy Aldridge Grainger. Grainger was an innovative musician who anticipated many forms of twentieth century music well before they became established by other composers. As early as 1899 he was working with "beatless music", using metric successions (including such sequences as 2/4, 2½/4, 3/4, 2 ½ /4). In December 1929, Grainger developed a style of orchestration that he termed elastic scoring. He outlined this concept in the essay "To Conductors, and those forming, or in charge of, Amateur Orchestras, High School, College and Music School Orchestras and Chamber-Music Bodies". In 1932, he became Dean of Music at New York University, and underscored his reputation as an experimenter by receiving his bachelor's and master's degrees, studying composition with Clifton Williams. The early part of his career saw him playing timpani with the Austin Symphony, and later playing percussion with the Fourth and Eighth U.S. Army Bands during the Korean War. Upon his discharge, he received a grant from the Ford Foundation’s Young Composers Project, leading to his placement as resident composer in the Greensboro

Grainger’s Australian Up-Country Tune is based on the composer’s Up-Country Song, written for unaccompanied and wordless voices. "In the tune," the composer wrote, "I had wished to voice an Australian up-country feeling as Stephen Foster had with American country-side feelings in his songs."

Fugue in G Minor ("Little")

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750)

The pinnacle of the German Baroque era, Bach is revered by modern audiences for both his sacred and secular music. He is also held in awe by musical scholars as the one who forever changed the fundamental directions of music by his invention of vertical harmony. During his lifetime, however, Bach was much more famous as a performer than as a composer. Although he played all keyboard instruments, his specialty was the organ. At that time it was normal for performers to compose their own music, rather than to rely on works written by others (as is common today). Therefore, Bach composed literally hundreds of works for organ, at all stages of his career. He was perhaps the first to treat the organ as unique, rather than just another type of keyboard instrument. Many of his organ works employ effects that are simply impossible on harpsichord or piano (or, its German Baroque predecessor, the klavier). Although its exact date of composition is unknown, the Little Fugue in G-minor is one of Bach’s earlier compositions for organ, probably written before age twenty. Its fundamental theme is a catchy little tune, only four bars long. That Bach could expand it into such a complex, perfectly inter-locked fugue is one mark of his genius.
