The History of the Warne Foundation

In 2004, Bill Warne received a call from Alexandra Wilson, the Governor of the Board of the Idyllwild School of the Arts in Northern California. She was the wife of Bill's client who had passed away. She sponsored a young Bulgarian violinist, Nadejda Lesinka, who received a full scholarship to study at Chapman University in Orange, California. Bill and Sandy Warne assisted in housing and scholarship for Nadia, as she moved to Orange to further her education, and that is the beginning of an incredible journey in meeting many more talented students to study here in Orange County. After meeting these musicians at Chapman University and also California State University, Fullerton, the Directors of the Warne Family Charitable Foundation created the Miriam and Thomas Warne Stringed Instrument Scholarship Program to help even more students. It seemed a great way to pass on the legacy, as Bill's parents, Miriam and Thomas Warne, met at Fullerton College while playing violin in the orchestra years ago. Approximately twenty stringed instrument musicians, attending three local universities, have benefited from this program so far, with more than $120,000 awarded to students from Bulgaria, Ukraine, Austria, Michigan, Nevada and Southern California in the past five years. The scholarship can be applied by any student pursuing higher education here in Orange County and plays a stringed instrument. The Warne Family Charitable Foundation enjoys watching these incredibly talented young people mature into amazing, giving, and gifted adults who will "play it forward" for many years to come.
